Communists Change East Berlin Sector Into Little Moscow

City Torn Wider Apart; Air Lift Speeds Up

Berlin, Dec. 8 (AP)—Communist determination to transform the Russian sector of Berlin into a kind of "Little Moscow" was disclosed today as the East-West conflict tore the city ever wider apart.

Karl Maron, Moscow-trained director of the economics department in the Communist Berlin "government," announced a plan for re-making Berlin's economy to keep pace with the two-year plan in the rest of Russian occupied Germany.

It called for "socialization" of all but the smallest Berlin factories, and turning over to public ownership property confiscated from Nazis and war criminals.

A postal blockade meanwhile froze the exchange of mail in the divided city.

Doctors of the public health service were split as physicians in the western sectors largely ignored an order from the Communist "rump" government to submit all their medical reports.

In western Berlin today, anti-Communist newspapers splashed a statement by U. S. Commander Gen. Lucius D. Clay that the airlift might be able to double its average of about 4,000 tons daily if there is an extended period of good weather.

The drone of American and British cargo planes was heard continually under sunny skies.

American Dollars Help Marshall Tito

Millions Poured Into Yugoslav Recovery

By OSOUD CARUTHERS
Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Dec. 8 (AP)—Millions of American dollars are pouring into Yugoslavia to help finance Premier Marshal Tito's program of "rehabilitation and socialist construction."

A report in the Yugoslav Communist party newspaper Borba revealed that a huge majority of contributions of money and supplies reaching Yugoslavia still comes from residents and organizations in the United States.

American contributions in the last three years were listed at $15,500,000. In addition, more than $1,000,000 worth of medical supplies, mobile tuberculosis clinics, trucks and street sprinklers have come from America through the Yugoslav Red Cross.

The contributions from the United States do not include the huge collections sent to the Yugoslav government in exile in London in 1945.

They also do not include the unestimated millions of dollars which stream in constantly from individuals—relatives and friends—in the form of cash, clothing, tin food and innumerable other consumer goods to private citizens.

Postal officials in Belgrade estimate that more than 90 per cent of the packages received in Yugoslavia post offices throughout the country from abroad come from the United States.

Sigler Committee Calls For Ax On 37 State Boards

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, Dec. 8. —Abolition of 37 state boards and commissions, many of them with strong political support, was recommended last night by a legislative committee studying government reorganization.

The committee appointed last spring by Governor Sigler, urged reduction of the state's 99 administrative agencies as both an economy and efficiency measure.

Most of the agencies slated for the knife have strong blocs of supporters who were expected to descend in full cry if the 1949 legislative moves toward carrying out very many of the committee's recommendations.

Sure Trouble Ahead

If any one of the sweeping recommendations could be singled out as apt to stir the most trouble, it would be the proposal to abolish the 17 boards which conduct professional examinations and issue licenses.

The committee recommended that they all be placed under a division of the state department.

"The several boards probably should continue to have jurisdiction on matters relating to eligibility, examination and determination as to who is to be licensed,"

Governor To Draw $22,500, Lawmakers $2,400 And Expenses

Special Session Ended At 1 A.M. Today

By JACK I. GREEN

Lansing, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Michigan legislature boosted the state payroll more than $308,000 a year today by voting salary increases for its members, elective state officials and justices of the state supreme court.

The total pay check for the top executive, legislative and judicial officials of the state was raised to $621,700 in line with the people's Nov. 2 election vote to remove the constitutional limit on their salaries.

The lawmakers slogged through a final 13-hour session yesterday and adjourned at 1 a. m. today to complete a special two-day session summoned by Governor Sigler.

Justices Up $3,000

Here is what the legislature did:

Raised the governor's salary from $20,000 to $22,500.

Raised the legislature from $3 a day to $2,400 a year, plus $500 a year expense allowance and mileage to and from their homes at 10 cents a mile for one round-trip a month during any session.

Increased the salary of the secretary of state, auditor general, attorney general, state treasurer, superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner from $7,500 to $12,500 a year.

Increased the pay of eight supreme court justices from $12,000 to $15,000.

Jumped the lieutenant governor's wages from $4,595 a year to $6,400.

Gave the speaker of the House of Representatives an expense allowance of $1,000 in addition to his regular legislative pay.

Effective Jan. 1

The increased salaries are to take effect January 1 for all except the supreme court justices, the superintendent of public instruction and the highway commissioner.

The justices' increase will affect two each year as their present terms expire, starting with Jan. 1, 1950.

The other two officials will get (Continued on page 8)

Ypsilanti Triplets Arrive Too Fast To Have Names Ready

Ypsilanti, Mich., Dec. 8 (AP)—Triplets born to the wife of a negro cement worker were just plain "A, B, and C" today but a nurse said they were doing "just fine."

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Logan of Wayne, Mich., haven't had time to give them a name.

Logan, who said "they came too fast and furious" for much thought, brought them to Beyer Memorial hospital here yesterday and announced:

"I've got a basketful of babies." The father of four other children, Logan told nurses he didn't have time to call a doctor.

Two of the babies are girls, one weighing four pounds and two ounces and the other four pounds, 12 ounces. The third, a boy, weighs five pounds, three ounces.

Lansing Sales Tax Investigation Runs Into A Stone Wall

Lansing, Dec. 8 (AP)—Efforts of Rep. John P. Fitzgerald to start an investigation of the collection of sales taxes ran into a stone wall in the House yesterday.

Unsuccessful in attempts to introduce a bill to shake up the administration of the department, he introduced a resolution to launch an investigation. This died in committee.

Fitzgerald charged that the state was losing $50,000,000 a year in uncollected sales taxes "through either mismanagement or collusion."

The bill, ruled out of order, proposed that the governor appoint the revenue commissioner and his two deputies. They are presently appointed from a Civil Service register.

Men Needed To Halt Detroit Crime Wave

Detroit, Dec. 8 (AP)—Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy was on the record today with a request for an increase of more than 25 per cent in his force.

Citing an "emergency" in a spread of crime, Toy made his request in proposing a $4,000,000 boost in the budget to add 1,233 more officers to the present force of 4,000.

Reds Tighten Noose Around Chinese Army

(By The Associated Press)

A dozen Communist columns tightened their noose today around 250,000 trapped Chinese National troops in the crucial battle for Nanking.

Elements of yet another trapped 109,000—the 12th Army group—were reported, without confirmation, to have broken through the Communist encirclement of the last two weeks. They were said to have made contact with other of Chiang Kai-shek's troops trying to form a defense line on the Hwai River, 100 miles from the capital.

The fate of Nanking seemed to depend on the 350,000 trapped troops. The odds strongly favored the Communists. They had great er numbers, better morale, better leadership and doubtless better equipment. Chiang, however, seemed to have a better air force and the weather was clearing to permit raids.

Another scarcely noticed threat developed in north China where government troops were pushed back within 25 miles of Peiping.

Shanghai was frantic and jittery. The city had many rumors that U. S. Marines would land and preserve order there, but the U. S. Consul said it wasn't so. The Chinese government extended martial law to the Wuhan area of central China including the big cities of Hankow, Wunan, and Hanyang. Mme. Chiang Kai-shek, who flew from China to seek greater American aid, awaited an interview Friday with President Truman.

Russia demanded in the United Nations that the U. N. Korean commission be ended. The commission, which was barred from north Korea which Russia occupies, was called a "tool of American imperialism." The Russians appeared to be flustered to block action on a resolution calling for recognition of the government of south Korea and empowering the commission to work for a reunion of north and south Korea.

President Syngman Rhee of the American-sponsored south Korean republic authorized that new nation to apply for full U. N. membership—something Russia doubtless would veto.

The Communist rump government of Berlin called for remaking Berlin's economy in line with the two-year plan for the Soviet zone of Germany. A postal blockade froze exchange of mail in the divided city. Doctors in Western Berlin mainly ignored Communist orders to submit all their medical reports.

Young Lansing Man Faces Death Chair

Highway Slaying Admitted At Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, Dec. 8 (AP)—A 23-year-old Lansing, Mich., man faced possibility of the electric chair today after his conviction for the murder of a retired New York railroad.

The death penalty was asked here yesterday by a district court jury which deliberated an hour and five minutes.

Attorneys for the defendant, Max Eugene Klettke, indicated they would ask for a new trial.

Judge Albert C. Hunt set December 13 at the date for sentencing.

Klettke admitted killing Carl Beach of Corfu, N. Y., after he and a companion hitchhiked a ride with the New York man near Arcadia, Okla., Nov. 3.

His companion, Harry Eugene Risken, 13, also of Lansing, faces trial next week on a murder charge in the slaying.

Klettke testified in an almost inaudible voice that he shot Beach and then bought food with money he took from the victim's body.

Ford Ore Carriers Break All Records

Detroit, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. reported today that its ore carriers Henry Ford II and the Benson Ford broke all records this year in taking iron ore to the Rouge plant.

The total cargo of the two diesel ships was 1,029,494 gross tons compared to the previous record of 836,000 set in 1936.

In all, the Rouge plant received 1,050,572 tons in ore shipments, Ford said.

Brains Of Chicago $2,000,000 Vault Robbery Identified

Newark, N. J., Dec. 8 (AP)—A soft-spoken man under arrest on a $24 shoplifting charge has been identified by Deputy Police Chief Frank O'Neil as the ringleader of a $2,000,000 Chicago safety vault robbery.

O'Neil named the prisoner as John Lawrence (Jiggs) Sullivan, 51.

Sullivan, O'Neil said, has a police record dating to 1914 and was

Marshall May Not Return To Cabinet

Secretary Will Need Long Rest After Operation

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Doubt arose today whether Secretary of State Marshall ever will resume full-time direction of the nation's foreign affairs.

Marshall underwent an operation yesterday for removal of a kidney.

While word from Walter Reed Hospital is that his condition is excellent, the 67-year-old cabinet officer obviously will need a long period of rest and recuperation.

Hence there is widespread speculation that President Truman some time in the near future will reluctantly accept his resignation.

Marshall is the second leading figure in the government's foreign relations work to have undergone an operation within a week. Warren R. Austin, chief of the United States delegation to the United Nations, was operated on at Walter Reed November 30.

Marshall became army chief of staff in 1939 and was a principal architect of Allied grand strategy against the axis. He retired in November 1945, hoping for a rest, but within a few days was ordered to China by President Truman. He remained there 13 months trying vainly to end the civil war.

Back home in January, 1947, he was named secretary of state. Since then he has spent many stressful months abroad at international conferences—in Moscow, Bogota, London and Paris.

Errol Flynn Pays $50 For Kicking Officer In Shins

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Debonair Errol Flynn, two-fisted movie star, paid $50 today for kicking a policeman in the shins.

The handsome actor of adventure roles pleaded guilty in magistrate's court to a charge of disorderly conduct. He originally had been charged with third degree assault but the charge was reduced with the consent of his complainant, patrolman Joseph Bergeles.

"I'm sorry about the whole incident," Flynn said, shaking hands with the patrolman.

The actor tried to pay his fine with a $100 bill but when the court clerk was unable to make change, Flynn gave a $50 bill.

Multi-Millionaire From Jackson Dies

Palm Beach, Fla., Dec. 8 (AP)—The former president of the Reynolds Spring Co. in Jackson, Mich., 69-year-old Wiley R. Reynolds, died here yesterday aboard his yacht.

Reynolds had been ill for two years. He retired in 1926 as a multi-millionaire automobile parts manufacturer and later built a Florida banking empire.

VETERAN CITY CLERK RETIRES

Carl Anderson Applies For Pension

The retirement of Carl E. Anderson, veteran city clerk, was announced this morning by City Manager A. V. Aronson. The retirement, for reasons of ill health, is effective as of December 1.

Mr. Anderson has been employed by the city of Escanaba since June, 1918, and has been city clerk here continuously since April 17, 1916. He is the only city clerk the city had had since the adoption of the council-manager charter in 1925.

Mrs. Clarice Buckley, who has been serving as principal clerk in the city clerk's office, has been appointed deputy city clerk. No successor to Mr. Anderson as city clerk has been made, however, and City Manager Aronson indicated the council may defer the appointment of a new city clerk for several weeks or more. The council has the authority to appoint the city clerk as well as the city manager under the city's charter. Other appointments are made by the city manager.

National Guard Data Available At Army Recruiting Office

Men 17 to 35 years of age interested in joining the Michigan National Guard may obtain all necessary information about the Guard from Master Sergeant Theodore A. Rix at the U. S. Army Recruiting office, 1215 Ludington street.

Sergeant Rix is assisting the Delta county National Guard unit in bringing it up to authorized strength of 129. Its present strength is 90.

"Because it is difficult for men to get to the state fairgrounds armory during the business day, we have made arrangements to interview men interested in the Guard and to accept their applications at the Army recruiting office in downtown Escanaba," Capt. Roy J. Johnson, commander of the Delta unit, said this morning.

Iron Mt. Request Is Denied by C&NW

Iron Mountain, Mich.—Reviewed by headquarters officials of the North Western Road, at Chicago, a request by Ralph Speer, city engineer, that two sections of railroad-owned property in Iron Mountain be leased to the city for parking purposes, was turned down, according to B. M. Howe, traveling agent for the railroad, whose letter containing the notice of disapproval was read to the city council by Clerk Lindholm.

The areas included in the request are situated on the west side of Stephenson, one between B and C, on the former site of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Chamber of Commerce offices, the other between C and D, across from the court house.

The animal had dragged the trap about three miles through the brush when he finally found the trap by following the animal's trail. In the trap were only the paws and part of the foot of a bear.

Taxing The Ore Docks

THE CITY OF ESCANABA undoubtedly will watch with considerable interest developments in a Wisconsin legislative proposal that the City of Superior, rather than the state, collect taxes paid on railroad ore docks at Superior.

The Wisconsin legislative council, acting upon a recommendation of the council's sub-committee on state-local governmental relations, has voted to introduce such a bill in the 1949 legislature.

Under the proposal, the docks would be defined as terminal property, taxable by the municipality, rather than as railroad property, taxable by the state. If this definition is accepted by the Wisconsin legislature, it will in all probability encourage Escanaba city officials to seek a similar interpretation by the Michigan legislature.

Escanaba does not collect any taxes now on the Chicago and North Western railway ore docks here. This property, together with other railroad property and other utilities property, is taxed directly by the state and the money distributed to the schools under the primary school law. The additional revenue that would be available to the city, provided the legislature legalized direct assessment on the dock property, would be extremely welcome to the city and to the taxpayers here.

Another Seaway Fight Shapes Up

ANOTHER CONGRESSIONAL BATTLE is shaping up in the 81st Congress for the St. Lawrence seaway project, spurred this time by the discovery of new ore fields in Quebec and Labrador and by the critical international situation.

The importance of the seaway project to the nation has been fully established but the project has consistently been blocked by the cooperative efforts of many selfish interests, among them the railroads, the lake shippers and ocean ports.

Because of the recent finds of high grade ore in eastern Canada, some of the interests that have opposed the seaway in the past have since reversed their attitude. Among these is the M. A. Hanna company of Cleveland, operator of iron and coal mines as well as lake freighters. It would not be surprising if the bulk of the mid-west steel companies, long standing foes of the seaway, would eventually follow the lead of the Hanna company.

A discouraging factor in the fight for the seaway is the change in the chairmen of important House and Senate committees that will act upon the proposal. These jobs were held by seaway supporters in the 80th Congress, but they will go to Southern Democrats in the 81st Congress. This loss, however, may be offset by total gains in the number of seaway proponents as a result of the recent election.

J. C. Lessard, Canadian deputy minister of transport, in a speech delivered at Ottawa this week, called for approval of the seaway to handle increased traffic in the inland waterway. He pointed out that the Soo canal, now 14 feet in depth and handling more tonnage in eight months than the combined year around totals of Panama, Suez, Kiel and Manchester locks, would be deepened to 25 feet to accommodate ocean-going vessels.

Berliners Ignore Communist Threats

THE RESIDENTS of blockaded Berlin have given their answer to the Communists' program of coercion, intimidation and false promises. The returns from Sunday's election in the three western zones showed 86% of the eligible voters cast their ballots, all of them in defiance of the Communists. The Russians refused to permit the election in their sector and sought under threats of reprisal to discourage the voters in the western sectors.

The election result showed conclusively the attitude of the people of Berlin towards the Communists. They voted in huge numbers in defiance of the Reds, even though they knew that they were inviting terrible recriminations in the event that the Communists eventually are successful in driving the American, British and French occupation forces out of the German capital. In effect, by their vote the Berliners showed faith in the western powers' determination to remain in Berlin.

The heavy vote against Communist control, in the face of the Red-sponsored rump government, showed further why free elections are never conducted behind the iron curtain. The Soviets know that Communism cannot win free elections, where the people can vote the dictates of their conscience.

In 1946, the Communists polled 19% of the vote in Berlin's general election. Knowing that they could not win this election, the Communists urged a boycott of the polls this time. And yet less than 14% of the voters remained away from the polls. Even if all of the non-voters were Communists, which is most improbable, the Reds could not have prevented a substantial loss in voting strength this year. And that is why the Russians sought to boycott the election and to threaten revenge against those who dared to vote.

For Better Deer Management

THE STATE LEGISLATURE will consider at its next session a proposal to give the conservation commission wider discretionary powers in the management of the state's deer herd. The conservation department strongly favors such a proposal and sportsmen in all probability will support the plan.

Conceding that the deer kill during the season just closed may not have been as heavy as in previous years, a majority of hunters attribute this not so much to a scarcity of animals but to comparatively poor weather conditions during the season.

It is well known that the number of deer in some localities is too large for the supply of natural food that is available. The result inevitably is winter starvation and serious malnutrition of the deer in those areas. Deer in this condition become easy prey for predators.

There is still another conservation problem involved besides the conservation of the deer herd. That is forest conservation. In areas where there are too many deer for the available feed, the animals destroy all of the young tree shoots as well as all of the trees within reaching distance. Nature is thus robbed of its opportunity to perpetuate the forest crop in these areas.

The legislature has little to lose and much to gain by empowering the conservation department with greater authority and wider discretion in the management of the deer herd. If the department utilizes its authority wisely, the result will be a sounder approach to the deer conservation problem. On the other hand if the department should abuse its authority, which is unlikely, the legislature can always suspend the discretionary privileges.

BACKBONE TO DEMOCRACY (Christian Science Monitor)

Fundamental service to democracy is being given by the American Bible Society through its broad endeavor to encourage the reading of the Bible. Freedom has developed primarily from faith in God. Without God, society reverts, as communism and Nazi-ism evidence, to the jungle and the domination of brute force. But even in the democracies there has been in recent years a drift away from the Bible. Now the Bible Society seeks to restore an essential of liberty. This is vital to America, for no nation is stronger than a Bible-reading people.

Selections from the Bible for daily reading have been made by the society, starting with Thanksgiving Day and running through Christmas. It is printing 15,000,000 copies of these lists this year, a million more than last. Many newspapers, magazines, and other periodicals reprint the list, better than doubling its circulation. Distribution of the selections is furnished by churches and numerous other channels. The Board of Education in Cincinnati, for instance, authorized last year the giving out of 40,000 reading lists in the grade schools of the city.

Many people otherwise not reached by the Scriptures thus become acquainted with the Bible. They come into some recognition of that eternal love which is so enormously needed in world affairs. The Bible opens the way for both individual and world salvation. Thanks to the daily reading lists broadcast by the American Bible Society, that way is due to become clearer to a multitude.

HOW TO CORRECT A FOREIGN ACCENT

This letter is typical of many that come to me every week. The writer is a border girl of Mexican parentage.

"I will appreciate for helping to speak English good and correct. Must of the time I get my self all mixed up and some words I speak them broke. Please be kind and help."

Such letters are a challenge that I scarcely know how to meet. But it isn't hard to understand the deep longing for self-improvement which motivates our citizens who feel themselves handicapped because of a foreign accent and an imperfect knowledge of the American language. Would that I had a magic wand to wave for them!

Schooling, obviously, is one of the best and quickest means for language improvement, either by enrolling in day or night school, or by engaging a tutor.

The next best is to USE the language. Read it, write it, and, above all, speak it on every occasion. Do not fear being laughed at for your mistakes. For every unkind person, you'll find a hundred who will be happy to help you.

Train your ear by listening carefully to people who speak good English. Listen to the radio and the talking pictures as much as you can, and try to form the words correctly as you hear them spoken. When you are sure that you know how a word should sound, practice saying it until it becomes easy and natural for you.

Don't hesitate to ask people to correct you. Smile and ask, "Did I say that correctly?" They'll know then that you are sincere in trying to learn, and that a correction will not offend you.

Try to persuade your family to speak nothing but English in the home. It may be hard at first, especially for the foreign-born. But it will come easier every day for

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Late on the night of Nov. 2 there appeared on the television screen a rather sad figure. It was as though an early frost had blighted a delicate plant. The figure was Hugh Scott, Jr., chairman of the Republican national committee. He was still at that point talking about victory but in such a frail and weak fashion that it obviously carried little conviction either with him or anyone else.

The very fact that he was out there with the television lights beating mercilessly down on him was, I suppose, proof of a certain fortitude. In the Dewey victory headquarters all but him had fled or, at any rate, had made themselves invisible.

ATTACKS EXTRAVAGANCE

In the month that has intervened Chairman Scott seems to have recovered his aplomb. To the 22,000 Republican party leaders throughout the country he has sent out a letter that bristles with talk about "the inflationary spendthrift program of the New Deal" and the "alien philosophy" of the Democrats.

Altogether it is a remarkable political document. The careful reader comes away with a strong suspicion that many eager—and perhaps conflicting—minds phrased this clarion call.

"It should be obvious to all of us that we must spell out an affirmative, appealing program," the letter says, "and slug toe-to-toe, day in and day out, with the demagogues."

That is about as close, and it is not really very close, as the letter comes to talking about issues or a program. A little later on it asks the question, "What shall be our program for the people?" We are told only that "It must be both Republican and popular." This last is the formula that Dewey sought in vain in his campaign.

The balance of the letter is devoted, with the exception of two or three "go forward" lines at the end, to the old hackneyed stuff about a "police state." There is not a new thought in it.

It may be argued that this is the only kind of statement that could be made in view of what happened. This is a painful interregnum. Scott can at best walk an uneasy path until the party resolves its own internal differences.

CRITICIZES OWN PARTY

But other Republicans are talking in quite a different way. One of the most striking post-mortems on the Nov. 2 catastrophe has come from Sen. Wayne L. Morse of Oregon, who has frequently pushed and prodded his conservative colleagues.

"I would emphasize as strongly as I know how," Morse said, writing in The Progressive, published at Madison, Wis., "that Thomas E. Dewey, the candidate, did not lose the election but rather the Republican party and its strategy lost it for him."

Paying high tribute to Dewey for his progressive policies, Morse speaks hopefully of his future leadership as a "source of strength within the Republican party." He said that now is the time for the party to reorganize along the lines of what he calls "constitutional liberalism."

This, with some modifications, is the view of probably a majority of Senate Republicans. Many of them grumbled privately throughout the campaign but felt helpless to do anything.

They will certainly make themselves heard in January. Some have already spoken out. There is a possibility at least that they will overthrow the Taft-Wherry leadership as evidence of the desire to start afresh.

The question is whether any single group can assert itself with sufficient authority to set the future course for the Republican party. The struggle between opposing factions is likely to go on for some time.

As Scott was careful to point out, 22,000,000 Americans did vote for the Republican candidate. He is also at pains to point out that if 36,616 votes spread over Ohio, Illinois and California had shifted from the Democratic side to the Republican side, Dewey would have won.

Playing this game, you can say that if a half million votes were not cast for Wallace in New York, Truman would have carried that state. It is a futile game that will leave the GOP just where it is—in a dead end.

There is one thing that I should not advise at first, and that is the attempt to teach yourself English by studying some grammarbook or other. That can better come later when you have a good working knowledge of the language.

Grammar books are written in such impossible Latinized language that scarcely anyone, including the teachers themselves, ever has an inkling of what the books are about.

Don't forget that grammar is not the language. Grammar is mostly a mass of rules and definitions that have largely become obsolete.

Learn the language by using it—that's the quickest and surest way.

Are you having difficulty using the ten self words? Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-23, makes it easy for you to learn the only two ways in which they can be used correctly. And How!

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

ONE CHAPTER—The most "forgotten" chapter of history is that of the past decade: The depression of the 1930's.

It is recalled in this column today because two boys, Gordon Olson of 805 South 18th street, and Ted Lindstrom of 1107 South 23rd street, discovered a record of one phase of local "depression history" in a bottle cemented among fireplace bricks in the ruins of Camp Bidaban, located southwest of the Escanaba sewage disposal plant. The camp was once a recreation place for Boy Scouts and other youth of the city. Today it is still popular for boys who find it a "little wilderness" for play. The boys found the manuscript in the bottle last Saturday, but they are too young to remember the days when Camp Bidaban was popular and boys now grown to manhood swam there in a pond made by damming the waters of Portage Creek.

Dunathan

OF THAT TIME—The record found in the bottle is signed by J. H. "Jack" Floyd, then Boy Scout commissioner, and he describes the record as a "Tribute to the Future Men of Escanaba." His record is signed March 24, 1934.

In addition to the written record are newspaper clippings of that time. Around them was the following note: "Escanaba, Michigan, March 21, 1934. Boy Scouts of America. The data on the Civil Works Administration and the repeal of prohibition was gathered by First Class Scout John Fredenburg, Star Scout Ernest Bloom, Life Scout Phil Westbrook of Troop 53."

THE PROJECT—Portage Creek drainage aided in providing high ground where Commissioner Floyd suggested the construction of a Boy Scout camp. A swimming pool was to be located at the forks of Portage and Willow creeks, and 90 boys reported for work there in May of 1933. It was too large a project to be accomplished by hand, and Escanaba business houses were solicited for funds to help finance the work. Through local cooperation of individuals, the city and the county, a power shovel was put on the swimming pool job.

THE RECORD—Scout Commissioner Floyd describes the location of the land on which Camp Bidaban was built. The city in 1930 built a sewage disposal plant on a portion of it.

"After the disposal plant was under construction our present-day depression began to be felt in this locality. Plants were shut down and railroads laid off men wholesale. The relief problem of the city was mounting to an alarming degree, tax payments were falling off, and the city was faced with the problem of caring for and feeding unfortunate families.

"Under the leadership of City Manager T. F. Kessler and City Engineer A. V. Aronson the first plan was to feed these families. So men were placed on welfare lists and put to work clearing garden plots on the unused land at the disposal plant. Needy families were given garden plots to raise their garden foods, seeds being furnished by the city. This lightened the burden on the city to some extent.

"The mayor at this time was William H. Needham, but he refused to run at the next election on account of ill health. Our present mayor, Carl J. Sawyer, was elected in 1932 and has been a very helpful ally to Mr. Kessler and Mr. Aronson during these trying times. As the relief rolls mounted the problem of caring for these people became more acute and taxed the ingenuity of those responsible for securing employment for these people in order to prevent giving out dole to them. So men were placed in woodlots cutting wood for winter use, others were put to work on improving city streets, sewers, parks, and drainage ditches, the last mentioned being a very needy project as the lands were in flood stage during two or three months each spring."

When it hesitated, I fired and missed, undershooting it by two feet. When I fired again it bounced into the air but settled down again, unharmed. After I had missed the third time Haxworth gently took the rifle and shot away its head. At 200 yards. After admiring our fowl for some time, which turned out to be slightly larger and heavier than a cock pheasant, we moved on across a desert seemingly so bare that a field mouse, I thought, would have difficulty finding cover.

But presently a band of gazelles jumped up ahead of us. When we were within range we were traveling at 45 miles an hour. We singled out a buck and the colonel took him neatly with the second shot. In the next hour Haxworth killed four others, all bucks, and he wasted few shots.

Then it was my turn. But when we jumped the next pair we had difficulty in overtaking them. The rocks and the depressions in the desert floor caused the car to bounce erratically, so that it was almost impossible to hood the sights on that fleeing, beautiful animal. I can not remember how long this gazelle maintained that heartbreaking speed of 45 miles an hour. We wounded him for six or seven miles. I emptied the gun at him, but at the end of the chase it was still on its feet. He had stopped running because he couldn't go any further.

If I had not killed him then he would have died anyway. Gazelles never stop running until they break their hearts.

Roving Reporter

By Hal Boyle

By GEORGE TUCKER
(For Hal Boyle)

New York, (AP)—In those fateful days of 1943 when the Libyan desert was a graveyard for military reputations, there was a British heavy ack-ack detachment stationed at nearby Wadi Tamet.

It was my fortune to know its commander, a colonel Haxworth, who had headed the anti-aircraft defenses of London in 1940 and had come now to help chase Rommel out of Africa.

Haxworth, a pipe smoker, was a big man with a square face, he was the best rifle shot I ever saw. At a time when the army was living on canned stew it was worth noting that his table had plenty of wild desert turkey and gazelle.

Now the bird Haxworth called a turkey was actually a bustard, an elongated old world fowl not unlike plover in taste and in high repute as a game bird.

Gazelles are a form of antelope with small recurved horns and large liquid eyes.

I had been in the desert for weeks and had seen nothing alive except men and dogs. We were moving across wilderness of sand, rock, and camelthorn, and in all that wasteland for hundreds of miles there wasn't a single drop of water. Not a river, not a creek, nor a spring was to be found.

"How can they live, and how can they live without water?" "Maybe they live on dew," Haxworth said. "But they're there and they can hide. I'll show you."

Early next morning we got into a truck and, with the colonel's orderly, started off. We were moving at about 30 miles an hour and had traveled about ten miles when the colonel nudged me.

"There's a bustard. Take him." He shoved a .303 rifle into my hands. I could make out the bird running on the ground about 200 yards ahead of us.

When it hesitated, I fired and missed, undershooting it by two feet. When I fired again it bounced into the air but settled down again, unharmed. After I had missed the third time Haxworth gently took the rifle and shot away its head. At 200 yards.

After admiring our fowl for some time, which turned out to be slightly larger and heavier than a cock pheasant, we moved on across a desert seemingly so bare that a field mouse, I thought, would have difficulty finding cover.

But presently a band of gazelles jumped up ahead of us. When we were within range we were traveling at 45 miles an hour. We singled out a buck and the colonel took him neatly with the second shot. In the next hour Haxworth killed four others, all bucks, and he wasted few shots.

Then it was my turn. But when we jumped the next pair we had difficulty in overtaking them. The rocks and the depressions in the desert floor caused the car to bounce erratically, so that it was almost impossible to hood the sights on that fleeing, beautiful animal. I can not remember how long this gazelle maintained that heartbreaking speed of 45 miles an hour. We wounded him for six or seven miles. I emptied the gun at him, but at the end of the chase it was still on its feet. He had stopped running because he couldn't go any further.

If I had not killed him then he would have died anyway. Gazelles never stop running until they break their hearts.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Perry Brown of Beaumont, Texas, the American Legion's new national commander, missed a chance to advertise Texas when he visited the White House with Louis Johnson, former assistant secretary of war.

As the photographers marched in for news shots after the meeting, President Truman reached down in his desk and dug out his old "Missouri" Legion cap. There was an embarrassed pause while the red-faced Brown suggested that they pose without headgear.

The Legion boss had forgotten to bring along his "Texas" cap.

AMERICAN FOREIGN LEGION

The army is toying with the idea of organizing an American Foreign Legion in Western Europe—composed of refugee Europeans equipped with American arms and taking orders from the U. S. Army.

This was revealed by Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall to a group of congressmen, just back from Europe. The congressmen reported that several young men in Western Europe—particularly refugee Poles—had approached them about joining the American army and had declared they would rather serve the United States than their own governments.

Royall countered with the idea of taking these men into the U. S. Army proper, but into an American Legion.

The congressmen also suggested to Royall that he could improve American troop morale overseas by paying G. I.'s in dollars rather than foreign currency. The G. I.'s are getting clipped, the congressmen said, because their pay is worth only a fraction on the black market of what they get at the official exchange rate.

NEAR UPSET IN KANSAS

President Truman was told last week that his failure to speak in Kansas during the campaign cost him that state's eight electoral votes.

"If you made two speeches in my state you would have carried it," declared Carl Price, Democratic national committeeman from Kansas. "As it was, we cut the Republican majority to less than 70,000 votes, and their majority was 154,000 against Roosevelt in 1944."

"In my own home county—Wyandotte—we elected every Democrat on the ticket, from top to bottom," concluded Rice.

Truman admitted he had been fooled by the Kansas outcome.

"I didn't realize how close it would be (here, but the way my schedule was arranged it was impossible for me to make any speeches in Kansas," he explained.

However, the president said he would try to make amends by doing his best to speak at the big Democratic "Washington Day" dinner in Topeka in February.

STEEL ARGUMENT

A hot backstage feud is going on between the commerce and interior departments over steel controls.

The commerce department, which leans toward business, believes that voluntary controls are adequate, that the steel industry can be trusted to ration out steel where it is needed. It takes this view despite the fact that the steel industry recently refused steel to the government itself for the Oak Ridge atomic plant.

The interior department on the other hand argues that even mandatory controls aren't far-reaching enough, that the government must go still further and force the steel industry to expand production.

Both sides argued their case face-to-face recently before Budget Director James Webb. No decision was reached.

INSURANCE PROBE

In addition to Congressman Cellar's demand for a probe of insurance companies, Wisconsin's Sen. Joe McCarthy, an ex-Marine, is getting even more vigorous in his campaign against insurance companies for not giving better protection to widows and orphans of servicemen.

All insurance companies write special war-casualty exemptions into their policies regarding servicemen, but McCarthy has become especially indignant at Acacia Mutual as a result of correspondence over Mrs. Robert Fraser, widow of a Marine pilot.

When he wrote the directors of Acacia asking payment for Mrs. Fraser, he got the following reply:

Director Harry Blake, Washington, D. C., scribbled on the bottom of McCarthy's letter: "This letter does not deserve an answer. It should be thrown into a wastebasket. I have known the president of Acacia for over 50 years. Have been on the board of directors for twenty years and served on the executive committee for many years. I have nothing but contempt for a cheap politician who will stoop to using his high position in the public service in such a vindictive way as you."

Replied Homer Holt of New York City, another director: "I must say that I am both surprised and disappointed to receive from you such an inexcusable letter as that which you addressed to me on United States Senate stationery. . . and mailed to me under your franking privilege as a United States senator."

Another director, James Collier of Washington, suggested that McCarthy pay for widow Fraser's lawsuit if he were so concerned about the case.

MCCARTHY FIRES BACK

Burnt up, the senator dictated a final, abrupt letter to Acacia directors.

"While several of your members indicate their surprise that a senator can take time off to interest himself in what they apparently feel to be an unimportant matter," wrote McCarthy, "I am sure that you . . . will realize that there is nothing remarkable or unusual in wanting to be of service to the families of those with whom

REPORT COPPER SUPPLY SHORT

Calumet & Hecla Unable To Meet Demand

Because of a shortage of copper Calumet & Hecla Consolidated Copper Co. is unable to meet the demands for the "red" metal from its customers or for use in its own Wolverine Tube division mills.

The company's new tube mill at Decatur, Ala., can't get into capacity operation because of the metal shortage. This mill which will employ around 600 people when running full now has about one-third that number on the payroll. The plant has a productive capacity of around four million pounds of finished products a month.

The demand for copper is enormous. Some 10,000 to 15,000 tons a month are required for stock piling purposes. The Kennecott Copper mine strike has taken 23,500 tons a month out of the market. All told there exists in the United States a shortage of about 35,000 tons a month between domestic requirements and available supplies.

Because of the shortage of primary copper there has been a heavy demand for secondary copper, an important factor in Calumet's over-all business.

Development work at the company's zinc-lead property in southwest Wisconsin is progressing as rapidly as possible. Production should get underway next summer and by the end of 1949 satisfactory earnings should be derived from this operation.

Twenty Dairymen Organize Co-op

Menominee—Twenty Menominee township dairymen have organized the M. & M. Producers' Co-Operative and have taken an option on George Bomber's Safe Milk company plant on Sheridan road for establishment of a retail milk company in Menominee. The option is expected to be exercised before its expiration date on Dec. 15.

Ervin Siehrs heads the new Co-op as president and other officers are Raymond Linsmeier, vice president; Phillip Tanguay, secretary-treasurer, and the three officers and Wesley H. Zeratsky and Arthur Theuerkauf comprise the board of directors. The company is incorporated with a $25,000 capital stock.

PROMOTED—Robert N. Anderson of the USS Eldorado, San Diego, Calif., was promoted from MM2/c to MM1/c on Thanksgiving Day, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Anderson, 1417 North 22nd street, have been advised. Robert entered service June 20, 1945, following his graduation from Escanaba high school and took his basic training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Munising News

Munising Plans Community Tree

Munising—Munising may have a community Christmas tree this year. The project has been proposed, discussed, and investigated and if details can be worked out, one will be put up.

Another local Christmas note is that the Roderick Prato post of the American Legion is arranging for a holiday party for children. It will be held at the Delft theater, and will include a free movie and the distribution of bags of candy. The Legion is asking the assistance of other organizations in the project.

Gifts for Yanks Drive Ends Friday

Munising—The annual drive for "Gifts for Yanks Who Gave," conducted by the American Legion and auxiliary, will end Friday, and by that time the committee in charge hopes to have 75 gift parcels ready to ship to hospitalized war veterans in Michigan. Yesterday 44 parcels had accumulated. Gifts or articles or money to

Meintz, Fraddo Receive Guard Commissions Here

Second Lieutenant Glenn W. Meintz, 321 South 14th street, and Second Lieutenant Stephen J. Fraddo, 2018 Twelfth avenue North, have been federally recognized as officers of the Michigan National Guard and are assigned to Company C, Delta county unit of Upper Michigan's 107th Engineer Combat battalion, with headquarters in Escanaba.

They are assigned to serve as platoon commanders under Capt. Roy J. Johnson, commander of the Delta county organization. They were accorded state recognition just prior to the annual Federal armory inspection last October 4, but Federal recognition was received only recently.

As platoon commanders, their duties are to plan and supervise the training and activities of their respective platoons in accordance with the National Guard training program prepared by higher echelons. They serve as instructors at armory drill each Wednesday night in cooperation with key non-commissioned personnel.

Lieutenant Meintz served as Troop 3 and staff sergeant in ordnance in World War II. He spent seven months in the European theater of operations.

Lieutenant Fraddo also served seven months in the ETO. He was a technical sergeant in the U. S. Air Corps and served a total of two years and nine months during World War II.

There are two more officer vacancies in the local Guard unit.

platoon commander and administrative officer, both carrying the grade of lieutenant. The table of organization authorizes a first lieutenant grade for these two positions; it was pointed out, which means that a man who served as a commissioned officer in World War II may be taken in as a first lieutenant.

A second lieutenant in the reserve or who served in the Army of the United States and who has sufficient time in grade may apply for a Guard commission in the grade of first lieutenant. A soldier who was discharged a master, technical or staff sergeant may apply for a second lieutenant's commission.

Men interested in applying for a National Guard commission are asked to see Major James G. Ward, jr., battalion executive officer, or Capt. Roy Johnson, company commander.

FLODIN TALKS AT IRONWOOD

Iron Mt. Industrialist
Addresses C-C

Ironwood, Mich.—"Be proud of the community in which you live." This was the advice of F. A. Flodin of Iron Mountain, to a large number of Ironwood Chamber of Commerce members and local industrial leaders at a banquet held at the Memorial building. The event was arranged by the Chamber to pay tribute to the heads of local industries.

Public co-operation in all phases of community improvement and development was urged by Mr. Flodin, who is president of the Lake Shore Engineering Works of Iron Mountain and Marquette, and past president of the Iron Mountain Chamber of Commerce.

He urged that Chambers of Commerce take the lead in community development and suggested that the public be kept constantly and completely informed of Chamber activities. He also suggested that Upper Peninsula secretaries of Chambers of Commerce should get together frequently to discuss mutual problems.

Co-operation of Upper Peninsula Chambers of Commerce also should be developed to obtain better transportation—air and rail—for the Upper Peninsula, he said.

A Chamber of Commerce is only the vehicle for accomplishing community objectives, he said.

Mr. Flodin outlined the efforts of Iron Mountain to obtain the veterans hospital, for which ground was broken March 7 and which is now entirely enclosed with work in progress on the interior. He also discussed the activities carried on in obtaining new industries for the city.

Iron Mountain seeks to encourage new business of all kinds, not merely industry, he said. Outside speakers are brought in to "arouse curiosity" and stimulate interest, he declared.

"Don't forget to give your established industries, professions, and the mines a pat on the back. Give them publicity and get the people talking about it. Sell your people on what you have. They will like it. Don't let them forget reported good today. He will not be permitted visitors for some time.

U. P. Law Officers To Meet Thursday In Iron Mountain

Members of the Upper Peninsula Law Enforcement Officers association will meet at noon tomorrow in the Elks Temple at Iron Mountain, it was announced today by Tom Scott of Marquette, association president.

The annual election of officers will be held following the luncheon meeting. The program speakers will be a member of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Expected to attend the meeting from Delta county are Sgt. William W. Miron, Escanaba Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer of Escanaba; and George Peoples, Gladstone, Soo Line railroad detective.

Cows' milk is bottled or canned in at least 10 different grades and forms.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Yes Sir, Insomnia's Contagious!

When Bud Swanson had trouble sleeping nights, and tried to get over it by turning up the radio full blast, he started an epidemic of insomnia all down the block!

Folks finally dropped a hint to Bud that he close the windows or turn the radio a little lower. Bud did—and that was the quickest cure for other folks' insomnia I've ever heard of!

Not that any of us object to the radio, or swing bands, or anything else that helps another person relax of an evening. (Myself, I like a glass of beer with a bit of cheese before I go to bed. I can't speak for you.)

From where I sit, good neighborliness means nothing more than simply respecting the other person's tastes and rights—without forcing your own tastes or opinions down his throat. And that goes for Bud's radio, my glass of beer, or whatever temperate pleasure you happen to enjoy.

INLAND STEEL WILL EXPAND

Will Enlarge Furnaces; Now Building Boat

Inland Steel Company has approved plans for enlarging its over-all steel capacity and its facilities for producing tin mill products, according to an announcement made by Wilfred Sykes, president.

Mr. Sykes stated that certain portions of the programs being initiated are now underway, and added that while some benefit might be had late in 1949, the major benefits in both programs will be realized in 1950 and 1951. He said that, although they do not involve any additional furnaces or mills, the programs are quite extensive.

He estimated that when the program is completed the company's ingot capacity would be increased by from 15 to 20 per cent. The present ingot capacity is 3,400,000 tons a year. The increase will be accomplished by enlarging existing furnaces, rebuilding and strengthening the buildings in which they are located, by installing heavier equipment such as cranes, ladles, etc., and by expanding the use of oxygen in the open hearths.

Mr. Sykes stated that the comprehensive program of enlarging cold rolled sheet facilities, begun in 1946, will be completed in the late spring, but that under present conditions its full effectiveness will be dependent on the enlargement of the company's ingot producing facilities.

The company is engaged at present in the installation of a new battery of coke ovens and the construction of a new ore freighter, which is to be the largest on the Great Lakes.

AMERICA FACES NEW CHALLENGE

Natural Resources Are Not Unlimited

New York, (SS)—America faces a challenge to live within its means, in terms of utilization of its natural resources, declared Fairfield Osborn, president of the New York Zoological Society and author of the best-selling conservation book, Our Plundered Planet, before the Cooper Union Forum here.

We have not been doing so, but instead have been eating up our national capital, the speaker asserted: "Our famed high standard of living has been built to a considerable degree upon consuming our reserves. One wonders why we Americans cling to the illusion—the pap of seekers for political office—that our standard of living is always going up."

There is no use in looking to the tropics for a new frontier, either, Mr. Osborn told his audience. In the rainy region south of the Sahara in Africa soil erosion is already a recognized and severe problem. The Amazon basin is a thickly forested wilderness; but it is unsafe to clear it because as soon as the forest cover is removed the diluvial rainfall of the region begins to waste the land.

We must therefore learn to live mainly on our own resources, and to take care of those resources so that they will continue to serve the nation indefinitely. At present, the good, productive land in the United States averages about 3.5 acres per inhabitant. Curiously enough, citizens of the USSR have almost exactly the same number of acres to support each person in that country. It remains to be seen which of the two socio-political systems will prove best in terms of intelligent land use.

There are about 137,000 clergymen in the United States.

FURTHER TESTS ARE APPROVED

Quality Of Water For Collector Sought

The Escanaba city council voted at a special meeting Tuesday afternoon to authorize the Ranney Water Collector company of Cleveland to proceed with new pumping tests at Sand Point to determine the quality of water that could be secured from a Ranney water collector.

The Ranney company completed a survey here last summer but the pumping tests from a 12-inch well drilled to a depth of 50 feet failed to show conclusively the quality of water that could be secured. A six-inch test well located 400 feet closer to the beach drilled to a depth of 90 feet revealed a heavy layer of coarse sand and gravel. The wider cone of influence possible in that location would permit an increase in the test pumping rate from 90 gallons per minute to 360 gallons per minute, City Manager Aronson said, and would make possible a truer appraisal of the quality of water that could be secured.

Will Enlarged Well

It is now proposed to expand the six inch well to a width of 12 inches and to make pumping tests in the new location. The cost is estimated at $700 but will not be assessed against the city unless the tests show a low iron content.

Tests from the present pumping well, drilled to 50 feet, showed a lowering of iron content from 40 parts per million to 25 parts per million at a pumping rate of 90 gallons per minute. The high iron content is the result of a ground flow of water which would be vastly diluted by the water coming from the bay itself and filtered through sand beds, hydrologists report. By increasing the pumping rate, which would be possible in the new location, it is believed probable that the iron content would be minimized to the point that iron removal either would not be necessary or the amount of iron removal that would be required would be comparatively small.

It has already been established that a Ranney collector at Sand Point would produce a minimum of at least 3,000,000 gallons of water per day, with the probability of a yield considerably greater than that. The Ranney report indicated a yield of at least 4 1/2 million gallons per day. The lower estimate is based upon conservative estimates by other hydrologists.

Lower Initial Costs

The city is interested in the Ranney water collector system because of favorable initial costs and lowered maintenance costs as compared with a new water filtering plant.

The cost of installing a Ranney collector, including an iron removal plant if such should be necessary, has been estimated at $200,000. The cost of constructing a new water filtering system has been estimated at a minimum of $500,000.

City Manager Aronson said this morning that the cost of maintaining a filter plant would be about $10,000 per year more than the cost of operating a Ranney water collector. Other increased costs, such as greater depreciation and higher taxes, would bring the annual increase for operation of a new filter plant to $30,000 which would have to be added to present water rates, in addition to payments for reducing the bonded indebtedness. The costs of increased taxes and depreciation on the investment for a water collector has been estimated at $8,000 per year. The savings of $22,000 annually would pay for the water collector within a period of 10 years, Aronson pointed out.

The city manager said that water rates would have to be increased at least 25% if a new water filtration plant were constructed.

Israel Armed Force Reported Marching Toward Red Sea

Paris, Dec. 8 (AP)—Britain told the United Nations today it had private information that an armed Jewish force was advancing toward the Red Sea near Trans-Jordan. It said the force of unestimated size was reported half way between the Dead Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba on the Red Sea.

Harold Beeley of Britain told the security council's seven-nation committee on Palestine the report is of "serious concern to the United Kingdom." He said any Jewish attack on Trans-Jordan would "oblige Britain to take action envisaged in its treaty with that Arab country," which provides for mutual military assistance in the event of aggression.

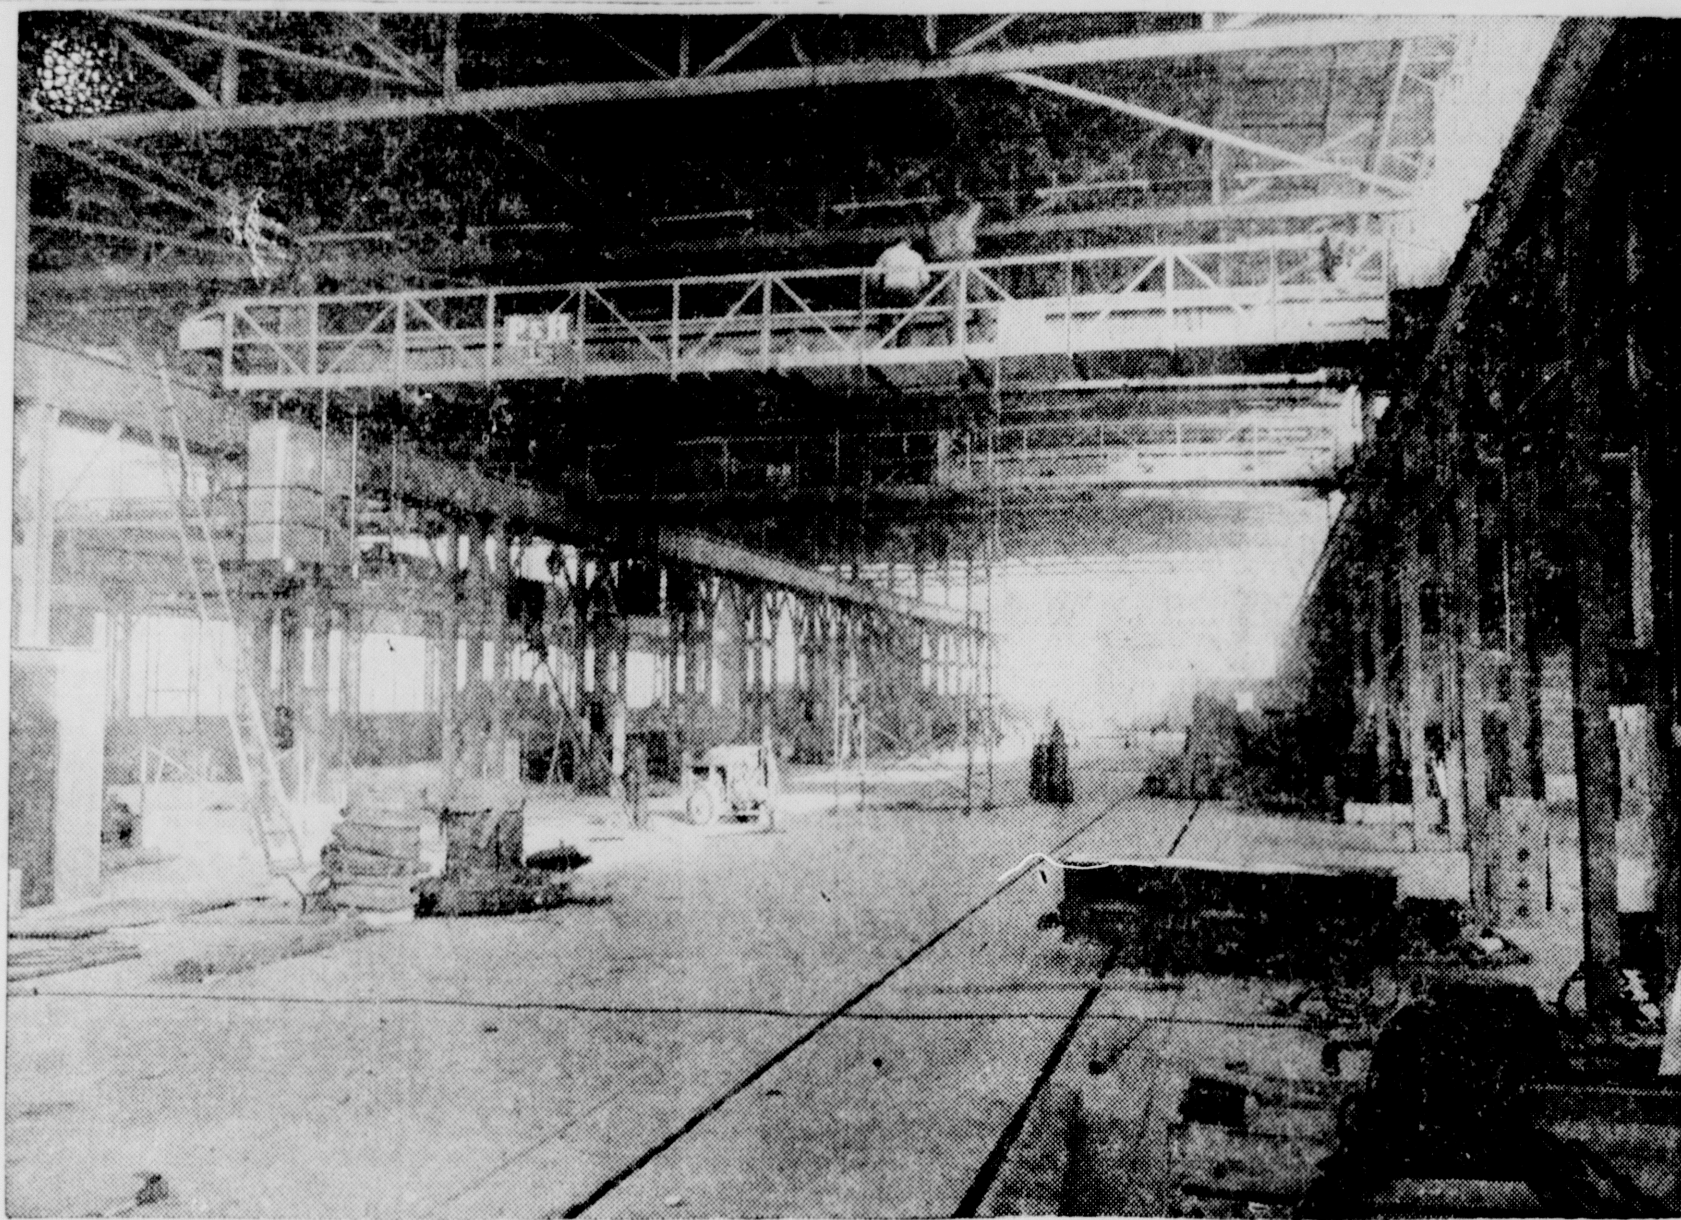

Smoker Sets Fire In Detroit Hospital

Detroit, Dec. 8 (AP)—A mental patient's cigarette set fire to her bed in St. Mary's Hospital today, bringing 10 fire companies to the scene.

Five women patients were led from the smoke-filled ward by nurses, who also checked hysteria among other patients.

Damage from the blaze was slight. There were no injuries.

Restaurants first became really popular after the French Revolution when aristocrats could no longer afford great retinues of servants.

NEARING COMPLETION—The new Harnischfeger Corporation plant being constructed west of the U. P. State Fairgrounds is nearing completion. Some of the machinery, including overhead cranes, is being moved into the plant and the remainder of the equipment will be installed after its arrival from Newark, N. J.

The plant will manufacture cane loaders and truck cranes. Operations are scheduled to begin on a limited scale about December 15. The Harnischfeger company also will maintain its electrical welder plant on Stephenson avenue.

Ann Arbor Hospital Has Effective Cure For Kidney Failure

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE

Ann Arbor, Mich., (AP)—A new treatment for kidneys that stop working, reducing a death rate of fifty per cent down to no deaths at all for two years, was described at the University of Michigan hospital.

The medical name of this trouble is acute kidney failure. It happens not infrequently after kidney's have been damaged, by physical injuries, reaction to blood transfusions, effects of prolonged low blood pressure or to drugs.

Kidneys stop working for one to two weeks. Urine may stop entirely for that long.

The Michigan remedy is two-fold. The condition that caused the damage is treated, with usual methods, so as to get the kidney working again as soon as possible.

The life-saving is due to the second part of the treatment. Kidneys are strainers. They not only remove wastes in the form of urine, but they retain salts that are necessary for life, that go back into circulation after the kidney straining.

When the kidneys quit, the Michigan doctors give the patient chemical salts to replace those which sick vital organ fails to supply. They give very little fluids only enough to replace the fluid lost in the perspiring and breathing. Breathing alone may exhale a pound or more of water in a day.

When the kidneys resume work, they often excrete large amounts of fluid. This change, a sign of recovery, actually has killed many persons. For the excretion of fluid and loss of salts at this stage may be tremendous. The remedy, in the Michigan treatment, is careful measurement to replace all the salts and other losses.

This is carried on until the healing kidneys take over. With this treatment, artificial kidneys have not been needed. The treatment is said to be amazingly easy and without discomfort for the sick.

Clemency Request In Lansing Bribe Sentences Buried

Lansing, Dec. 8 (AP)—A demand that the legislature seek executive clemency for two former legislators and a lobbyist convicted of a bribery conspiracy was buried in a Senate committee last night, with the sponsor wielding the shovel.

Senator Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson) had introduced a resolution urging clemency for former Senators Jerry T. Logie of Bay City and Carl F. Delano of Kalamazoo, and Floyd Fitzsimmons, Benton Harbor sports promoter and lobbyist. All are serving prison sentences.

He was able Monday to keep the resolution out of committee and make it a special order for debate yesterday.

But last night, he moved in the closing hours to send the bill to committee. The committee chairman, Senator Colin L. Smith (R-Big Rapids), didn't even look up as it went into the pigeonhole.

Governor Gets Raise Of $2500

their bigger pay checks next July 1 with the start of their new terms.

There were strong doubts in some quarters, and expressed on the chamber floors, that the salary increases were illegal because they were made after officials had been elected for the next two years.

The constitution forbids changes in the salaries of officials after their election, but Attorney General Eugene F. Black has ruled that the officials are not elected until the official canvass is completed. That has been purposely delayed until after the legislature could meet.

Virtually every bill had to be maneuvered and slugged through the legislature, so fearful were the members that they would face voter criticism.

At one point, the House and Senate dickered for nearly two hours over the amount to be paid the legislature and they were only $64 a year apart.

The Senate had clung to a bill paying the lawmakers $6 a day and $7.50 a day expenses for 90 days in odd-numbered years and 25 days in even-numbered years. The House countered with a $2,500 a year salary and a $500 expense account. The Senate balked at that one 14 to 8, but when a House-Senate conference committee trimmed $100 off the salary the Senate reluctantly gave in with only the exact number of votes needed to pass it.

On the governor's salary, the Senate plumped for $25,000 a year and the House for $20,000. They compromised at $22,500 finally.

The House bottled up the justices' pay raise in committee as well as those for the superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner.

The House leaders reasoned that these could be taken care of in the regular 1949 session because the terms of office affected changed later.

But the Senate finally persuaded the House that it would be risking a court suit if it voted the increases next year. Senators argued there was not time enough to pass them before the spring election without questionable procedures.

Senator Haskell L. Nichols' attempt to get a $12,000 a year state salary for circuit judges — they now get $7,000 — was ruled out of order in the Senate and shelved.

Legislative aides estimated that mileage for each lawmaker to make one roundtrip home a month during sessions would cost about $14,000 a year, compared with the $2,800 now spent to allow legislators one roundtrip per session at state expense.

Sponsors of the expanded mileage allowance pleaded that northern Michigan legislators were discriminated against under the present system because of the cost of going home during sessions at their own expense.

Rangers Don't Play Like Cellar Sexlei Against Boston; 2-2

By Ralph Roden Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Rangers occupy the National Hockey league cellar but when they tangle with the pace-setting Boston Bruins they play like champs.

In the past the Rangers were "cousins" to the Bruins but this season, their poison.

The Bruins began the campaign boasting 92 victories as against only 55 defeats and 28 ties in competition with the Rangers. They started off with a 4-1 triumph in their first meeting but since then they have failed to beat the Broadway Blues in three outings.

New York handed the Bruins their only shutout of the year so far, a 2-0 beating on Oct. 31, followed up with a 4-1 triumph and battled them to a 2-2 tie last night in the circuit's only game.

Coch Frank Boucher of the Rangers, who entered the game with a five game losing streak, reshuffled his forward lines and the move paid off.

Boucher broke up the Edgar Laprade, Tony Leswick and Ed Kullman trio. Laprade centered Pentti Lund and Ed Slowinski. Leswick skated on a line centered by Buddy O'Connor with Clint Albritton at right wing. Kullman did not play. The third line was divided by Don Raleigh with Dunc Fisher and Nick Mickoski on the flanks.

In a pre-game ceremony Buddy O'Connor received the Hart and Lady Byng trophies from League President Clarence Campbell. O'Connor is the first player in the loop's history to win both awards in a single season.

British Navy Uses Mock Atom Bombs In Practice War

Plymouth, England, Dec. 8 (AP)—Long-range RAF bombers carrying mock atom bombs were alerted today to scout a powerful invading "enemy" fleet in Britain's biggest aerial-naval operations since the war.

It is "exercise sunrise"—a test of the attacking powers of the Navy and the defensive strength of the air force.

The mock war is between two fictitious nations. Redland, a country with a strong naval force is represented by the British home fleet. Blueand is a nation weak in naval power but strong in air and submarine protection. It is represented by the RAF and navy submarine units.

Sometime in the course of the exercise the RAF will attempt to ward off the invaders with fake atom bombs. As a substitute for the real thing they will drop 320 million candle power flashes — normally used for night photography.

observers at Hialeah Park.

However, there is still a question mark in the mind of Calumet general manager Ben Jones that he will stand the hard training necessary to get ready for a try at a third Widener victory.

Armed won Hialeah's $50,000 handicap in 1946 and 1947. Last year he was out of the money but finished ahead of his rival, King Ranch's Assault.

Russians Filibuster UN Action On Korea

Recognition Of Southern Area Regime Opposed

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Paris, Dec. 8 (AP)—A Soviet bloc filibuster threatened today to prevent action on Korea's case at this session of the United Nations general assembly.

The Russians do not like a resolution by the United States, China and Australia which was presented at the 58-nation political committee yesterday.

The resolution calls for recognition of the government of U. S.-occupied South Korea as a legal government and for a new U. N. Korean commission. The commission would be empowered to work for reunion of North and South Korea and to check on the actual withdrawal of Russian and U. S. occupation troops.

The political committee is working against time.

Chairman Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium has ruled that it must end its debate by tonight. The assembly winds up Saturday and the assembly must act on any resolutions passed to give them legal effect.

Russia, which has been building up North Korea's armed forces under Communist leadership, announced Sept. 19 that she would withdraw all her occupation troops by the year's end. United States troops still remain in the South, where a Communist uprising recently was put down.

Underrating Atom Bomb Helps Russia, Lilienthal Warns

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—People who minimize the atom bomb's destructive power are playing into Russian hands, David E. Lilienthal says.

The chairman of the atomic energy commission told the Women's National Press Club yesterday that "some military men and some scientists" now say the bomb is "just another super block buster."

"This down-grading of the atom bomb is the attitude of the Kremlin," Lilienthal said.

If the country were to accept this idea, he said, it might spur a drive to return the atomic energy program to military control—a move Lilienthal consistently has opposed. The program now is under supervision of the five civilian members of the atomic energy commission.

Lilienthal also assailed the idea that supplies of uranium—the A-bomb's source material—are too scarce for large scale use of atomic energy. He said that within the next 20 years a sizeable amount of the nation's electricity will be produced by atomic energy plants.

Grave Digger Gives Up At Saginaw For Murder Last Spring

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 8 (AP)—A former grave digger surrendered to police here today and told them he beat to death a Philadelphia woman last spring when she spurned his advances.

He later fled the city, according to his written statement, because he learned his job required him to dig a grave for his victim.

Police Lt. Joseph Bugenske identified the man as Herbert L. Gulembo, 24, a red-haired foundry worker who recently lost his job here.

Bugenske said Gulembo told him he decided to surrender because he learned that a Philadelphia iceman, whose name he did not know, was accused of the slaying.

Gulembo, in his statement, identified his victim as Mrs. Catherine Miller and said, to the best of his memory, she was killed last April.

Records in Philadelphia show that Bayard J. Jenkins, 19, a negro iceman, was convicted Nov. 23 on a charge of murdering Mrs. Kathryn Mellor, 43, a writer and artist, last June 7.

Jenkins, facing a possible death sentence, denied a prosecution charge that he confessed the slaying while "filled with lust." Sentence has been delayed pending an appeal for a new trial.

Displaced Persons Measure Revamped

Law Branded Unfair To Jews And Catholics

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

Washington, Dec. 8 (AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) today completed a new displaced persons bill which he said would eliminate all the features President Truman has objected to in the present law.

Walter, the No. 2 Democrat on the House judiciary committee which handles such legislation, told a reporter he will introduce the measure when the new Congress opens January 3.

His bill, he said, would (a) Guarantee against racial, religious or nationalistic discrimination, (b) Double the number of homeless Europeans eligible to enter the United States, and (c) Give them four years—instead of two years—from last July to apply for admission.

Under the present law 205,000 European refugees are to be given entry to this country the next two years. The measure, passed by the 80th Congress last July, was denounced by President Truman during the recent campaign as being unfair to Jews and Catholics. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican presidential candidate, also was critical of it.

Walter's bill would declare a displaced person eligible for consideration if he entered Germany, Austria or Italy on or after September 1, 1939 and on or before April 21, 1947.

Cross-Country Dash Of Mantz Ends As Plane Motor Fails

Cleveland, Dec. 8 (AP)—Paul Mantz' cross-country dash ended abruptly near here late yesterday when his motor failed.

The Hollywood stunt and racing pilot was enroute from Burbank, Calif., to LaGuardia Field, New York, trying to break the West-East transcontinental record he set Feb. 28, 1947. It was six hours, seven minutes, five seconds.

Mantz and his green F-51 were 80 miles east of Akron at 25,000 feet when his supercharger stopped working and the oil pressure went down. So he turned back to Cleveland airport.

Panama hats, though produced in Ecuador, take their name from the fact that Panama was originally the chief center of their distribution.

Sentence has been delayed pending an appeal for a new trial.

Nobody Knows How Much Metal Lies In Ground

DRILLING FOR ORE—Engineers hunting needed manganese for steel making. This search was made near Boulder Dam.

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
AP Newsfeature Writer

Washington—How much mineral lies buried under U. S. soil? Nobody knows accurately. But the question is important right now because iron ore, copper, lead, zinc are needed to build defense machines and keep up our level of living.

Elmer W. Pehrson, chief of the Economics and Statistics Branch of U. S. Bureau of Mines, says only two other areas of the world are known to have coal and iron ore resources at least equal to ours for steel-making, the basis of our industry. The two other areas are western European and Russia. Russia's overall resources may be greater than ours. We don't know.

With the U. S. and Russia, two great world powers with conflicting political philosophies, holding the greatest potential coal and iron resources upon which to build—for peace or for war—government officials are doing some heavy thinking. They wish they had a more accurate estimate of what buried treasures lie under the U. S., and especially what is readily available.

But Secretary of Interior Krug, in speeches and written statements, has called this the great metals mystery. He has estimated it may take 20 years and a search costing $1,000,000,000, to come up with some good answers.

Abundant mineral resources have helped America become a world power with a high standard of living. We have been particularly rich in the minerals basic to the steel industry—iron ore and coal—and we have enough left, probably, for a long time to come.

Some other metals we have never had in abundance, including manganese and chromite, necessary to the steel industry. But we always could get them, in peace time, from other nations. One top government official says that in the world there is no approaching shortage in any metal except perhaps lead.

To be self-sufficient in time of war, or in case other nations refuse to sell to us, we need an assured supply of important materials we lack. Two ways are open:

1. Purchase all we can of the scarce minerals and place them in a stockpile.
2. Intensify the search for new

States. They suggest we place an import tax on anything we bring in.

The second idea, intensifying our hunt for minerals and developing low grade deposits, meets these obstacles:

Mining men haven't agreed with the government on a plan. Some officials say the hunting job is so big and costly that only the government can do it. Mining men have replied that private prospectors will do the job if there is a good chance for profits. This might mean the government would have to subsidize private industry.

There is a wide difference of opinion among mining men and government officials concerning possibilities of new discoveries in the United States.

One government official says no important commercial discovery of a metallic mineral has been made in this country since 1910, with the exception—an Arizona copper deposit. This official says this fact is an important argument against any optimistic forecast of vast new deposits. But Secretary Krug says less than 10 per cent of the country has been mapped on a scale fully adequate for a modern treasure hunt.

At this moment we have no stockpile of a size we may need if foreign sources are shut off. A government report says we are completely or almost completely dependent upon foreign sources for nine important minerals. They are cobalt, chromite, ferrograde manganese, nickel, platinum, tin, industrial diamonds, quartz crystal and asbestos.

We are partially dependent upon foreign nations for 16 others, including petroleum. The others: arsenic, bismuth, cadmium, copper, iron ore, lead, mercury, tantalum, tungsten, zinc, fluor spar, antimony, vanadium, high grade bauxite and mica.

Some of these are important for economic reasons not because we don't have them in this country.

But the report says there are at least five strategic minerals this nation probably will always have to import: platinum, tin, industrial diamonds, quartz crystals and asbestos.

The latest government estimate of our resources includes the measured and known mineral reserves, the indicated reserves on the basis of partially complete and verified information and the inferred reserves, based on broad knowledge of some deposits but without actual measurements of them.

Government officials say such figures have little value. This is because surveys have been so limited. Some companies don't make their figures available to the government because if they do their reported reserves will be taxed.

Some reported reserves are of such low-grade they could be mined only at a great expense. Also the figures do not take into account the possibility of future discoveries. But for what they are worth, here is what the latest government inventory shows:

Source of Uranium Reported Found In Old Colorado Mine

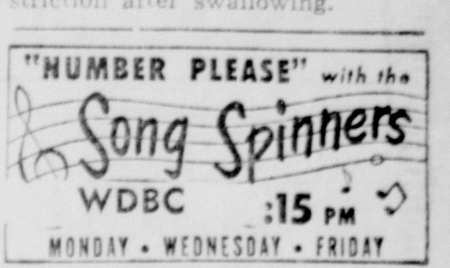

New York, (AP)—A claim of discovery of a rich source of uranium in Colorado is made in a article in Look magazine.

The article says a vein of pitchblende, the best source of uranium for atomic bombs or energy, was found deep in the abandoned old Caribou Hill mine near Boulder. It was made in new explorations there, in search of silver and other metals, by the Canadian Radium and Uranium Corp.

The author, Nat S. Finney, says "now it is safe to say that America has, within its own frontiers, the natural resources it needs for the atomic age."

Baby - Sitting Takes Its Place With Paper Route

By RUTH MILLETT NEA Staff Writer

Baby-sitting is fast becoming to the young American girl what the paper route has long been to the American boy.

It's giving her a chance to earn her own spending money, to learn how to deal with adults outside her own family, how to take responsibility. And in addition it is teaching her something that will come in handy later—how to handle small children.

If the people who hire neighborhood girls to baby-sit would keep in mind the fact that baby-sitting is really an education for the girl, they could make it an even better education.

They could, for instance, make it a point always to have the baby-sitter arrive in plenty of time for complete instructions and for asking any questions she wants to.

Square Deal They could remember always to be completely businesslike about financial arrangements—agreeing beforehand on pay, paying exactly that and no more.

And they could, when they are displeased or dissatisfied with a baby-sitter's way of handling a matter, explain to her what should have been done instead of paying her and saying silently, "Well, I'll never have her again." After all, how is she going to know when she has made a mistake, unless she is told?

Baby-sitting is a fine opportunity for girls to get early business training, but only if the people they sit for carry out their part in a fair and businesslike way.

Unexpected company for tea? Prepared cake mixes which can be stirred up in a few moments are one answer to what to serve. Packaged instant frostings which come in strawberry, vanilla and chocolate flavors need only the addition of hot tap water and a few stirs with a spoon and they are ready to coat tiny squares of leftover cake. Or, after stirring in water, these instant frostings can be treated like fondant candy and rolled out and cut into fancy shapes.

Savory way to co-star cheese and shrimps as a canape spread is to mash one package of rouxfort or blue cheese with two teaspoons of cream or beer. Blend to a smooth paste and spread on crackers. Place one-half a shrimp, cut lengthwise, on the center of each canape and top with a slice of olive. Sprinkle with lemon juice.

He Had a Barrel of Fun --- The Orangutan, That Is

What's more fun than a barrel of monkeys? A monkey with a barrel of toys, of course. That's what NEA-Acme cameraman Bert Brandt thought when he brought a pre-Christmas package of mechanized toys to Andy, three-year-old orangutan at the Bronx Zoo, New York. The orang enjoyed it. So did NEA-Acme cameraman Dave Davis, who took the pictures of Brandt.

Sam Price, Renunciate, Threw Away His Shoes

Outside his rattan hut in Santa Monica, Calif., Sam Price waters an orange tree. The robe is made of sackcloth.

Santa Monica, Calif. (NEA)—Sam Price is Santa Monica's nature boy—a fullbearded, barefoot young man clad in an ankle length robe made of sackcloth.

But Sam Price, who was a Royal Canadian Air Force pilot during the war and more recently a labor organizer, is not trying to write a song. He threw away his shoes and orthodox clothing seven months ago to become what he calls a renunciate. He wants to demonstrate to an atomic world of cold war and high prices that material things are unimportant.

With half a dozen other renunciates, he has formed the Church of Christian Living, with temporary headquarters in the backyard of Sam's home—a rattan hut four feet high, seven feet long and three feet wide that sits beneath a guava tree.

Forming a legal church was necessary, according to Sam, so that the several bearded disciples could come and go freely without suddenly finding themselves locked up in some small town on a vagrancy charge. Having a church of one's own is apparently very necessary in Sam's business.

Today, Sam owns nothing. He does not toil; neither does he spin—unless it's necessary to work a few days in order to earn enough money to help someone in need. He has no post-war housing problem. The current price of shoes does not clutter up his mind. Being barefoot in the coldest (California) weather hasn't even brought on a case of the sniffles. In fact, he needs nothing that others consider necessities.

His diet consists of the "perfect foods" referred to in the Bible: fruits, nuts and vegetables, all unprepared. These perfect foods come to Sam perfectly free, apparently, but if he did have to pay for his daily subsistence, it would cost only a few cents.

Sam says he never misses the charcoal broiled steaks of his past life, nor cheese cake, pork chops, beer, lemon pie or roast beef. He claims that after seven months of perfect foods, such worldly cuisine is offensive to him.

The renunciates of the Church of Christian Living don't want to make converts to their extreme way of life. Their aim, Price says, is to show by example that true peace and the richest happiness come from within a person.

Once a day, when he's home, you'll find Sam watering the two small orange trees he set out near his rattan hut. That's not toil, he says; it's setting an example.

Innkeeper's Pencils Stick To His Guests

By SANKY TRIMBLE
AP Newsfeatures

Taos, N. M.—Never let it be said David Alvord doesn't enjoy life. Alvord gets fun out of driving people half looney with a pencil and placating them by thumb-tack banking of their extra dollar bills.

Alvord, portly hotel operator, fastens a trick pencil with a loop of string into his guests' buttonholes and then defies them to remove the gadget.

Printing on the pencil says if you can't remove it, you must cut the buttonhole—"for it is seven years bad luck to burn, cut or break the pencil or string."

Alvord estimates he has hung 10,000 of the gadgets and those honored have spend hours, days and weeks trying to remove the pencil.

One fellow called long distance from Denver and talked 30 minutes getting instructions as to how to get it off. He was so relieved to rid himself of the object he sent Alvord a pair of boots. Another wired from Chicago asking the solution.

A couple from Stockholm, Sweden, walked in recently and asked of "this is the place with the pencils?" They'd heard about it from Stockholm neighbors.

And a well-known cartoonist sent his coat back from Hollywood with a plea that Alvord remove the pencil, Alvord did—but looped pencils in all the other buttonholes.

The Taos host gets almost as much fun out of his thumb-tack banking.

It all started a year ago when a Wichita, Kas., resident wrote his name on a dollar bill and asked Alvord to pin it up behind the bar—in case he should ever come in with a flat wallet and need a drink.

The idea grew. Just like a checking account, people said. Now there are approximately 100 dollar bills with names and addresses dangling in profusion from thumbtacks back of the bar.

Buttonholer David Alvord.

WHITE PINES RESIST RUST

Experiments Conducted
At U. of Wisconsin

Pittsburgh, (SS)—White pine trees highly resistant to the blight or rust disease, deadliest enemy of this important timber species, can be obtained by selection. Unfortunately, however, the strains cannot be perpetuated by present methods of pine seed production.

This is the result of ten years of selection experiments conducted in Wisconsin by a three-man research team consisting of Prof. A. J. Riker of the University of Wisconsin, T. F. Kouba of the U. S. Department Agriculture and W. H. Brenner of the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

Resistant white pine strains were found through a simple but severe course of selection. Large numbers of seedlings were grown in areas where there were also numbers of wild gooseberry, currant bushes, which harbor the disease through part of its life cycle. Susceptible pines simply couldn't survive; mortality ran as high as 99 per cent. Resistant strains were propagated by grafting; in about one-fourth of the specimens resistance was found to be really high.

Unfortunately, under the conditions of open wind pollination obtaining in standard tree propagation practice, it was not found possible to obtain resistant offspring from these promising stocks.

Memorial Hospital
Gets Go Ahead Signal

The Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital has been given the green light signal.

At a special meeting of the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors, a resolution was introduced and passed authorizing the hospital board of trustees to go ahead with its plans giving that body assurance that the county will back the hospital to the extent of the funds needed to complete the project.

Also at the meeting, it was voted that a committee of three members of the board, along with William J. Sheahan, county prosecutor, confer with State Senator W. A. Ellsworth and Representative D. A. Morrison concerning proposed legislation whereby tax diversion funds received by city and township units may legally be expended in the support of such projects as the local hospital plan. Wm. W. Davidson, Agner Dehlin and George Stephens were appointed to this committee.

A. J. Cayia, chairman of the hospital trustees, stated that he was sure that some way would be found to take care of the situation without obligating the county in this matter of support.

He also stated that it is unlikely that building operations will begin before spring.

MASONS PLAN
NEW TEMPLECostello - Blumrosen
Building Selected

Lakeside Lodge No. 371 and other local Masonic affiliate bodies will in the course of the next year have a Masonic temple of their own.

At a meeting after the close of the regular Blue Lodge session Monday evening it was announced that an organization incorporated as the Masonic Building Association, Inc., had been launched and that negotiations for the purchase of the Costello-Blumrosen building on South Cedar street would be completed in a few days to permit the association to assume ownership by the first of the year.

The building houses three business establishments on its ground floor, namely the Eat Shop, Cliff's Market and one third of the D. M. C. Variety store. The upstairs has long been devoted to lodge room purposes, the Odd Fellows lodge being the principle user.

The building will undergo considerable repairs and redecorating before the Masons will move from their present quarters. It was announced however, that the building is in good condition and also that little remodeling, if any will be necessary. Installing of a new heating system, rearrangement of the lighting system, will constitute major changes.

Financing of the purchase of the building and the fitting of it for its new use are practically assured.

The Masons have used their present quarters on the third floor of the C-L Hardware building for the past sixty years.

Girl Scouts Held
"Fly Up" Ceremony
Monday Afternoon

Forty-eight Brownies and Intermediate Girl Scouts from Troops 3 and 6 met together Monday afternoon in the Central Kindergarten for a "fly-up" ceremony.

Those who received their wings and became full fledged scouts were Ann Girvin, Geraldine Larson and Betty McNamara.

Games followed the ceremony and the Brownies who were hostesses for the afternoon served refreshments of cookies, made by some of the troop mothers and orangeade.

Leaders of Brownie troop No. 6 are Mrs. C. F. Anderson and Mrs. T. H. Reque. Scout troop No. 3 leaders are Mrs. Dorothy Furanen, Mrs. Omer Dybevik and Mrs. William Ellithorpe.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks for the wonderful acts of kindness shown us by neighbors and friends during our recent bereavement. We are especially grateful to the Rev. John Safran, those who sent floral offerings, those who donated the use of their cars, those who served as pallbearers, and all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wilcox and Marcella

GUARD UNIT
PROPOSED HEREUnit Would Call For 140 Enlisted Men

Prospects for the establishment of a national guard unit in Manistique are again being sounded.

Harvey Quiek, appearing before both the Lions club and the Rotary club at their regular meetings Tuesday evening and Monday noon read excerpts of a letter from Col. Howard E. Derby, GSC, Michigan National Guard, of Lansing, in which it was stated that in the general scheme of national defense, Manistique was a logical place for such a unit.

A guard unit at full strength would have six officers and 140 enlisted men. A suitable place for drill and for other purposes incidental to training and instruction would have to be provided.

The company would be equipped and instructed for anti-aircraft warfare and receive training in the use of anti aircraft automatic weapons.

A special inducement was offered young men of the draft age. Those young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ years who join the guard will not be eligible for selective service as long as they meet the national guard drill requirements of devoting one night each week on regular duty and 15 days of field training each summer.

Rotarians and Lions club members regarded the proposed project with favor.

The local council of the Knights of Columbus will hold its annual Christmas party on the evening of Monday, December 13, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Dairy Day To Be Noted Here With
Talk And Movies

A program of interest to all Schoolcraft County farmers has been planned for the Annual Dairy Day Program, Thursday night, at 8:00 p. m. in the K. of C. hall, according to a report by Clayton D. Reid, County Agricultural Agent.

Kenneth Alderton, Schoolcraft County D. H. I. A. Supervisor, will give his annual report on the production of 14 Schoolcraft county dairy herds. Records of high producing herds and high producing individual cows will be given as well as the average of all herds tested.

A moving picture, showing the artificial breeding of dairy cattle and its advantages will be shown. Much interest in this subject has been shown by Schoolcraft County farmers during the past year.

There are at least 128 local associations in Michigan breeding cows artificially. In these associations, approximately 12,000 farmers are breeding over 100,000 cows artificially. Twelve artificial breeding associations were organized in the Upper Peninsula this past year.

William Lutz, Michigan State College Livestock Specialist, stationed at Chatham, will be present at the meeting to point out some significant facts about the annual D. H. I. A. report. He will tell how farmers can get the most out

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my relatives and friends who remembered me with flowers and cards while I was a patient at St. Francis hospital in Escanaba. I especially wish to thank the hospital staff and members of Agnes Rebekah Lodge, No. 159.

NOTED SINGERS HERE ON FRIDAY

Jubilee Singers Third Lyceum Number

The Mississippians, noted American Jubilee Singers, are to appear at Gladstone high school Friday afternoon at 1:45 o'clock as the third number of the current local lyceum series.

The group appears under the direction of Thomas J. Pruitt and formerly sang over the NBC stations from San Francisco.

Indicative of their popularity is the following from a principal of a California high school:

"We have had this group for four successive years and we want them again next year."

The Mississippians form an extraordinary combination of male voices. No quartet in America is giving a better or more authentic interpretation of the Negro spirituals or the popular plantation melodies.

A brief informational talk by Mr. Pruitt as to the origin of the Negro music is highly interesting. Mr. Pruitt, the manager and director, is a graduate of the Piney Woods School. Has carried many outstanding roles in dramatic and musical productions.

'WRIST WATCH' IS WORLD'S SMALLEST CAMERA—Comparison with the ordinary U. S. postage stamp, above, shows the tiny size of what is claimed as the world's smallest camera. Perfected by Dr. Rudolf Steineck, at Tutzing, Germany, the camera is worn as a wrist watch, as seen on young lady at right. With shutter fixed at 1/250th of a second, it takes eight negatives on 3 x 4-mm. orbicular film, which can be enlarged to 2 1/2 x 3 1/4 inches. Photo by Gerhard P. Seing, NEA staff correspondent.

Munising Plans Lighted Gridiron, Diamond

Munising, Dec. 8 (Special to the Escanaba Daily Press)—Sports-minded Munising—one of the hottest little sports towns in Upper Michigan—may have a lighted football and baseball field at its city playgrounds in the near future.

That is, if plans of members of Munising baseball teams, backed by city merchants, materialize. They're going all out for a combination gridiron and diamond—under lights.

The goal is $20,000 to be used for lights, installation of all pertinent equipment and which includes $5,000 for bleachers and other necessities. Orville Wieland, manager and owner of the Munising team in the Upper Peninsula Semi-Pro Baseball league, says the money will be raised through $500 notes from 40 Munising merchants. Munising's two banks will furnish capital for the project, having agreed to honor the merchants' notes.

"The fund will be self-liquidating," Wieland points out. "It will be paid off from gate receipts. Each merchant will bear liability only for the amount of his note and cannot, of course, be held accountable for the entire sum."

Wieland said solicitations for signatures on the aforementioned notes will begin shortly.

Munising has two baseball teams, one an amateur group in the Rainbow Baseball league and the other a member of the faster U. P. Semi-Pro league. Ted Mattson, Ishpeming, is president of the semi-pro group. Bill Koski, Humboldt, is secretary, and Wieland is treasurer.

Ishpeming, Humboldt, Marquette, L'Anse, Hancock and Munising participated in the league last season and hold franchises for 1949. It is probable that Neagance will be entered next season, and according to a legendary figure by the name of Joe Wolford, Escanaba is also a probable entry. Wolford, you see, entered Escanaba in the league. The only catch is that on one in Escanaba ever heard of Wolford.

Among those attending the recent meeting, when plans for the lighted combination football and baseball field were discussed, were Mayor Elson Carberry, Commissioner Henry St. Martin, Con Denman, Henry Korvela, Vernon Florida, Hub Pervault, Roy Gargill, Jeff Bodette, Robert Villemure, Ben Hankin, Orville Wieland, James Tracy and Dr. Herbert Dickson.

It's going to be quite a field, Wieland told the reporter. None of this being tackled one the bare sod of a diamond baseline. The football field will be at one end, and the baseball field at the other end. The twain shall not meet.

Ponto has not been too pessimistic about the chances of his charges this season. However, any team meeting up with the locals will have formidable opposition and within a few weeks experience will have strengthened the team considerably. LeRoy Brown will be eligible at the beginning of the new semester and this again should add some strength to the team.

No changes in lineup are anticipated.

Gladstone Braves Host To Manistique Friday

Gladstone, Dec. 8.—Gladstone high school cagers will clash with an old rival, Manistique, here this Friday evening in the second game on the Braves' schedule.

Reserves of the two schools will play a preliminary.

While disappointed to some extent over the outcome of the opener against St. Joseph's last weekend, Coach Eldon Keil said it was not totally unexpected for he knew that if the game developed into a close battle that the additional experience of the Parochial five would provide the poise that would mean the difference between victory and defeat, particularly if the Braves blew up for a short time and this is exactly what happened in the final four minutes of the game.

Manistique has five veterans back so the Schoolcraft crew is not exactly without experience and their mentor, Coach Hilton

Among those attending the recent meeting, when plans for the lighted combination football and baseball field were discussed, were Mayor Elson Carberry, Commissioner Henry St. Martin, Con Denman, Henry Korvela, Vernon Florida, Hub Pervault, Roy Gargill, Jeff Bodette, Robert Villemure, Ben Hankin, Orville Wieland, James Tracy and Dr. Herbert Dickson.

It's going to be quite a field, Wieland told the reporter. None of this being tackled one the bare sod of a diamond baseline. The football field will be at one end, and the baseball field at the other end. The twain shall not meet.

Ponto has not been too pessimistic about the chances of his charges this season. However, any team meeting up with the locals will have formidable opposition and within a few weeks experience will have strengthened the team considerably. LeRoy Brown will be eligible at the beginning of the new semester and this again should add some strength to the team.

No changes in lineup are anticipated.

Late Ted Horn Won National Driving Title Three Times

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—The automobile racing world honored the late Ted Horn last night as the only man to win the National driving championship three times in a row.

The trophy awarded the top driver of the year was presented to the famous racer's widow at a dinner given by the control board of the American Automobile Association.

Horn was killed in a racing crash at Duquoin, Ill., Oct. 10. At the time he had already sewed up the title as the national champion driver—an honor he won also in 1946 and 1947.

Single game attendance record for the Arizona U. football stadium is 14,739, set last year when the Wildcats played New Mexico U.

ON THE LINE — Andy Vari-papa smiles confidently as the 55-year-old strike master gets set to fire his power hook at a tough field of 167 bowlers shooting for his third consecutive world individual match game championship in the National All-Star Tournament in Chicago. The Hempstead, N. Y., Miracle Man is the sport's greatest exponent of trick shots.

CITY CAGE RESULTS

In Escanaba National Basketball league games played at the senior high last night, Harnischfeger defeated Tommy's Lunch, 31-22, and Knights of Columbus defeated National Guard, 46-22. In American tilts at the junior high, the VFW nipped Gladstone Legion, 41-39, in the best game on the night's card, Delta Hardware trimmed Mike's Bar 86-25, and Wait Window stopped Clairmonts. The score of the latter game was not reported.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

BY JIM WARD

Cuff notes: Maybe Bill Ezinicki should have stuck to golf, a game in which he can control his temper. . . . The Toronto Maple Leaf player is the current "bad man" of the National Hockey league with 65 minutes in the penalty box to date. . . . Ezinicki, you recall, is the Escanaba visitor who fired three birdies on the last three holes at Highland last summer.

George Mikan, bespectacled Minneapolis Laker center, is clipping along at a merry 29.7-point-per-game pace. . . . Yeeikes! . . . He's scored 505 points on 175 field goals and 155 free throws, and the season is only just beginning. . . . Bill Mikulich, Traunick's gift to Big Nine basketball, is playing his third season on the University of Michigan varsity, where competition is getting stiffer all the time. . . . U-M has more capable reserve strength available now than in the past three seasons.

Babs Petaja, Escanaba's hockey impresario, and Fred Pepin, of Gladstone, are members of the new U. P. Amateur Hockey league board of control. . . . It's almost an all-Delta county affair. . . . Larry Pratt, Escanaba, succeeded Joe Morrison, Newberry, as president, and Gladstone's Gordon Haga and Ed O'Leary are vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. . . . Other board members are Dan McGivary, Newberry; Buck Godin, Sault Ste. Marie; Bob Constance, Marquette; Ray O'Neill, South Marquette, and Ben Artwisch, Stambaugh.

Feature story headline in a Waukegan, Ill., newspaper: "Heel Find That Golf Is Good For The Sole". . . . You have to read it twice. . . . Okech, got it? . . . The man in question is Emil Aho, shoe repairman at Waukegan, and former resident of Marquette, Mich., who says he still makes shoes for the sheriff in Sault Ste. Marie. . . . He left Finland in 1904 and settled in Marquette. . . . In 1915, he won the Michigan welterweight wrestling championship. . . . The golf angle in the headline has to do with Emil retiring and playing golf after his son, Toivo, graduates from an osteopathic school in Chicago. . . . At 62, he's an ardent golfer and finds enjoyment in the game.

Maxim Outpoints Bivins, May Get Shot At Walcott

Cleveland, Dec. 8 (AP)—Joe Maxim today joined the assorted flock of heavyweight title aspirants waiting in the reception room to do business with Joe Louis.

And business being what it is in the heavyweight division, Maxim probably has as good a product as any to sell.

The Arena crowd of 11,164 didn't see anything spectacular, but the fancy-banking Spectator did turn in a workman-like performance last night in outpointing Jimmy Bivins in a 10-rounder. Maxim weighed 182½, Bivins 178.

Bivins, a top ranked during the war years, was in the midst of a comeback campaign that included an impressive performance against Louis in an exhibition a few weeks ago.

Louis had labeled Bivins the toughest opponent he had met on his exhibition tour up to that time, but the Cleveland Negro was no puzzle to Maxim last night.

Maxim kept his fellow townsman off balance most of the fight with his sharp jabbing and hooking. Every time Bivins started a rally he found Maxim's left in his face.

The fight wasn't a dock-walloping affair and frequent clinches kept Referee Jackie Davis busy.

Bivins and Maxim each lost a round because of low blows. Maxim had the third taken away from him while Bivins forfeited the fifth.

Referee Davis and the two judges couldn't see eye-to-eye on the outcome. Davis called Bivins the winner by a 6 to 4 count, while judges Charlie Bill and Herb Williams voted Maxim five rounds, Bivins four and one even. The win put Maxim in line for a probable bout with Jersey Joe Walcott here Jan. 13.

SANTA ANITA
Arcadia, Calif., Dec. 8 (AP)—Citation—1948's "horse of the year"—tops a list of 32 nominees for the $100,000 added Santa Anita maturity to be run Jan. 29. The second running of the mile and a quarter event—a feature of the Santa Anita meeting that opens Dec. 28—will boast a starting field drawn from nominees that won 34 stakes this season.

ILLINI TEST
Chicago, Dec. 8 (AP)—Just how good the Illinois basketball team is this season should be answered in the Illini's next two games. Tonight the Illini open Notre Dame's season at South Bend. Saturday they meet powerful De Paul. Illinois is ranked along with Michigan, Minnesota, and Ohio State as a leading contender in the Big Nine championship campaign.

North Carolina State's defending Southern Conference basketball champions will play 23 games during the 1948-49 season.

Walker Uninterested In Pro Grid Career

New York, Dec. 8 (AP)—Southern Methodist's Doak Walker, outstanding of the nation's present college grid crop, may forego professional football for a coaching career.

The two-time All-America halfback, who still has another year of eligibility, expressed faint interest in the money game last night in an informal talk with newsmen after receiving the Heisman trophy as the outstanding college player of the year.

"I'm majoring in physical education," he said. "I'd like to coach when I'm through." He added that a pro grid career didn't appeal to him much at the moment.

Competition in 12 intercollegiate sports is sponsored by Michigan State College. Last year they drew a total of 1,553 candidates.

Cardinal, Bear Game Is Pro Football's Greatest Natural

By Charles Chamberlain
Chicago, Dec. 8 (AP)—Not since Red Grange turned pro in his heyday of the roaring 20's has professional football in Chicago reached such frenzied heights as it has for the Cardinals-Bears battle in Wrigley Field Sunday.

The cross-town rivals, each with 10 wins and one defeat for the campaign, tangle for the western division crown of the National Football League.

All seats have been sold for nearly two months and standing room tickets also have gone, assuring a crowd of more than 51,000. The game is to be televised, the first this season by the two Chicago teams.

Bears' officials say about 150,000 persons are clamoring for seats for the game, which they tab the greatest box office natural in the history of pro football.

The Cardinals, who broke into greatness only in the past two years, defeated the Bears twice last season enroute to winning the national crown. The same club is back this time with Charlie Trippi, Elmer Angsman, Pat Harder, Paul Christman and others making it the most feared of offensive unit in the league.

The Bears, an overwhelming defensive team with plenty of punch, too, have added some new attractions—such as Johnny Lujack, Bobby Layne and lineman George Connor. The northsiders are the only club to defeat the Cards this season.

The Bears' only defeat was to the Eagles in the rain at Philadelphia 12-7, a victory that fused the Easterners' march to their divisional honors.

Currently the Bears are slight favorites.

The rivalry between the two clubs started in 1920 and is the oldest in pro football. The Bears hold an edge with 36 wins, 12 losses with six games being tied. During this span the Bears have overpowered 950 points to the Cards 328

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our dear beloved daughter, sister and aunt, Betty Marie, who passed away two years ago today, Dec. 8, 1946.

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you ever near us,
Though you died two years ago.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Loving, tender, kind and true,
There is not a day that we don't think of you,
Memories are treasures no one can steal.
Death leaves a wound no one can heal,
You are not forgotten, Dear,
Nor ever shall you be.
We shall remember thee.

RUARK WRITES ABOUT RILEY

Got His Early Training Under Sports Editor

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—It was seven years ago and the Washington Redskins were playing the Philadelphia Eagles when the word passed to the press-box. I often wonder who won that ballgame, because when I finally got to bed, three or four days later, I had ceased to be a sportswriter. I was covering the early part of a war.

The change-over was made on the advice of a man named Rocky Riley, my sports editor, who snarled in his usual thorny accents that only children fiddled around with sports when there was a war on, and he, personally, was going downtown to shop for a job in the Army. Mr. Riley was a very decisive fellow, and I wish I had him around now to steer me straight—to boot me in the fanny when I get lazy, which is too often. I would like to have him around to reduce politics and global confusion and whither mankind into his own rigid categories of thieves and non-thieves, black and white, true and false. Riley always had the answer.

Had Voice Like Foghorn

Mr. G. (for Gilbert) Rockford Riley was a short, handsome gent with overall gray hair and a wide upperlip he camouflaged with a bristly mustache. He came out of Kentucky, and I think his daddy might have been a gambler. Rocks was a highroller himself, and he knew dice from both ends of the stick. He was a bitter horseplayer—bitter in that he knew he could not beat them, and so resigned himself to the annual upkeep of horseparks, with no hope of getting even.

Rocky was an intolerant, intemperate, wonderful man. He had a voice like a foghorn with the croup. When he was exasperated, which was often, he would smite his desk with the flat of his hand. Then he would scream like a tortured horse. Rocky was the greatest free-style screamer I ever heard. He screamed at me for four years.

He could scream loudest when newspaper people and newspapers took themselves over—seriously, such as applauding a newsbeat or referring to personal triumphs in what he felt was routine news coverage. He said while you were beating yourself on the back, somebody else was out stealing the fresh stuff.

Rocky hated the anonymous informant—the "source—close—10" stuff, and threatened to disembowel me if I ever fetched one in to him. He forbade me on pain of immediate assassination, to listen to off-the-record stories. "Anything you can't print, don't hear," he said. He forbade what he called thumbsucking. The printing of lofty I-am thoughts without facts. He wouldn't allow writing off your own street, which meant no comment on happenings outside your ken. He scorned predictions.

"Facts, damn it!" he used to yell. "Gimme information. Nobody cares how noble you are, or what you did last week, or how hard you work. Gimme facts!"

Deer Licenses Drop 10,000 This Season

Lansing, (AP)—Resident deer licenses reported sold through Nov. 30 were down almost 10,000 from the same period last year, the conservation department reported.

This year's reported sales at the end of the month totalled 53,938, while the comparable figure last year was 63,708. However, non-resident deer licenses reported sold on that date were up—663 this year and 617 last year.

Small game licenses reported sold on the date this year totalled 429,035 compared to 413,477 on the same date last year, a 3.7 per cent increase.

Bow and arrow deer licenses increased 14.5 per cent, jumping from 4,434 to 5,077.

Sales of fishing licenses reported sold on Nov. 30 showed them still climbing. This year's total on the date was 1,021,357, compared with 1,012,294 at the same time last year.

Trout stamp sale reports, considered virtually final, showed 163,219 fishermen bought them this year, the first year they were required.

More than 1 billion metal cans are used in an average year to pack meat in the United States.
